Suite 140 and 160 (combined or separate)

Suite 160 is a large, single suite that has been legally divided into two medical condominiums called 140 and 160. This combined space is currently leased to a single tenant. The black line on the below floor plan shows the legal lot line between the two medical condominium properties, but no wall has been built to divide them. The tenant will decide whether to purchase this property or continue leasing it until the lease termination. If the tenant elects not to purchase the property, it will be available for purchase by any medical professional or investor when the current lease expires. A buyer can acquire one or both of these condominium properties, and the lot line between them can be moved to divide the two spaces in any preferred way.

Lease expiration date: 11/30/2017

The following pages assume that a medical practice purchases both Suites 140 and 160 (currently operated as Suite 160). The figures represent the total of the combined medical condominiums into a single suite. Similar financial reports on the individual suites are available.

This is the floor plan of this suite. It can be modified to suit any owner's needs. Internal walls are not structural and can be easily moved.

IMPORTANT NOTES: 90% (or greater) financing is available

- The property mortgage is typically paid off in 20 - 30 years, and then the owner owns the property free and clear. There are no more mortgage payments, but payments on leased properties go on forever. The long-term impact of this loss is not shown here.
- Mortgage payments are fixed. They never change. Rent payments, however, rise annually and on every lease renewal. The above rent is the starting rent, not the repeated increases that will occur over a 30-year lease term.
- Leased properties are owned by the landlord. Throughout the mortgage, the medical professional owns the property.
- Owners can write off the interest portion of monthly mortgage payments, property taxes, depreciation and owners' association dues.
- Owner's operating expenses consist of Owners Association dues that pay routine building maintenance costs and property taxes.

The common area represents 28.88% of the total building; this percentage was added to each medical condominium suite to obtain the total square footage for each suite. The shared Board Room is included within this common area square footage.
